New GDC Reporter Bags!

Ideal for professional photographer and prosumer videographers

Photo Reporter bags were created for the reporter “on the move,” ready to grab and go at any moment and easily accessible to your gear, ready to capture that split-second shot. They hang comfortably on your shoulder and provide quick, full access to your gear through the one-handed top flap or discreet access through a watertight zippered slot in the top. Internal divisions have layered storage capability. This product family has been developed with the assistance of a focus-group of professional photo journalists.

As is standard with Kata bags, the Reporter bags include a convenient rain cover for extra protection if you are caught in a downpour!

The Photo Reporter bags are available in three sizes for a great carrying solution for all your gear!
