The new MPRO carbon fiber video tripods: Pure performance, superior features.

Manfrotto introduces new professional carbon fiber tripods, in the video range: the new MPRO family.

This new tripod family completes the single tube tripod range in addition to the famous and patented MDeVe tripods range. Thanks to carbon fiber single tube and magnesium die castings, these two tripods bring great stability and load capability together with lightweight and an ergonomic, easy-to-use and compact design. In addition, a new angle selector has been developed for adjusting the leg angle in a quick, easy and precise way, a screw-in 75/100mm adaptor (536 version only) to hold the different industry standard half ball heads and retractable spiked feet, are some of the most important features included in this new high-performing tripod range.

The 536 features: 3 stages, a folded height of 71cm, a maximum extended height of 203cm, can hold up to 25kg and also weighs approximately 3.25kg. In addition, a screw-in 75/100 mm adaptor to hold different industry standard half-ball heads has been included.

The 535 features: 2 stages, a folded height of 73.5cm, a maximum extended height of 171cm, has a maximum weight load of approximately 20kg and weighs in at 2.3kg.
