

Red Raven Marketing is pleased to announce that the new Rogue Flashbenders are now available in Canada.

What are Rogue FlashBenders?

Rogue FlashBenders is a system of unique shapeable light modifiers for shoe mount flash that enable unparalleled control for strobe lighting enthusiasts. Manufactured to meet the demanding needs of location photographers, FlashBenders' patent pending design provides complete control over the shape of the reflector. FlashBenders represent a new approach to controlling light. FlashBenders are positionable. You can bend a FlashBender into almost any position, and it will assume that shape, staying in position until you reform it.

FlashBenders are made from the highest quality materials, including genuine Cordura nylon and genuine Velcro fasteners. FlashBenders' white reflective surfaces are made from a durable, wipeable, synthetic fabric which has been tested for neutrality so that it won't alter the color temperature of the reflected light from a strobe. Rogue FlashBenders fit a wide range of shoe mount flash brands, including: Canon, Konica, Metz, Minolta, Nikon, Nissin, Olympus, Panasonic, Pentax, Quantum, Sigma, Sony and Vivitar.

- Unique patent-pending positionable design allows for unparalleled light control
- Durable materials
- Fits any standard shoe-mount flash using integrated belt
- Packs flat for portability
- Won't change the color temperature of reflected flash

The versatile Rogue FlashBender Large Positionable Reflector can be used either as a reflector to bounce light onto a subject, as a flag to shield light away from it or as a snoot to produce a tight and narrow circle of light. Because of its size, the Large Reflector is perfect for off-camera use. The patent pending design incorporates (3) positionable rods that allow the Large Reflector to be molded into position and held in place. The Rogue FlashBender Large Positionable Reflector requires no separate attachment strap, nor any adhesives to be applied to the strobe. The easy attachment belt built into this FlashBender is designed to work with all makes and models of shoe mount flash. The Large Reflector weighs approximately 4.5oz (128g), and measures approx. 10" x 11" (254mm x 280mm).

And because it's half the size of the larger version, it's easy to throw in a camera bag and it's perfect for use on (or off) camera. The patent pending design incorporates (2) positionable rods that allow the Small Reflector to be molded into position and held in place. The Rogue FlashBender Small Positionable Reflector requires no separate attachment strap, nor any adhesives to be applied to the strobe. The easy attachment belt built into this FlashBender is designed to work with all makes and models of shoe mount flash.
